

DIC Privacy Policy

Last Updated: February 2014

Data Protection

The customer data provided to DIC Computer Limited for the realization of a business transaction will be processed and stored electronically.

DIC Computer Limited attach utmost importance to the protection of personal data, for which reason we strictly adhere to the Data Protection Rules and Regulations applicable.

We use personal data only to the extent to which they are needed for guaranteeing the execution of orders and their delivery, or for fulfilling the relevant contractual obligations. Any further usage e.g. for market research purposes, advertising or newsletters is subject to your explicit consent. Your consent, once given, can be revoked at any time.

Our handling of personal data includes storing, correcting, sending, blocking and deleting them. Depending on your instructions, the data will be corrected, blocked or deleted, unless they are needed to fulfill contractual obligations or for legal reasons.

We do not forward any personal data to third parties of our service partners whose services we enlist for the execution of our contractual obligations, e.g. logistics operators and bookkeeping services.

When placing your order, you automatically consent to the usage of your data within the scope described above.

DIC Computer Limited may occasionally update this Privacy Policy and will revise the "last updated" date at the top of the Privacy Policy page. To notify you of the change, DIC Computer Limited will either place a notice on the home page of the website or contact you by e-mail.
